

DIGITAL TEACHING & LEARNING:

The Pre-Edit

A Community of Practice

Dr Emma Pauncefort – Programme Lead
Learning Sciences Practitioner | Founder, Dilectae, UK

Common is the comment that with the normalisation of Covid in our lives, we have sprung back to old ways with few lessons learned.

It is our responsibility to ensure we do not let this happen in the field of education.

Join a global community as, together, we use our shared experience of disrupted education as a springboard for exploring what education could and should be in our age of digital possibilities.
